Introduction

dèsLibris is the platform for the complete collection of “Essentials of Canadian Law” from Irwin Law, as well as other legal texts and public documents. This guide is to show users how to navigate the database.

dèsLibris is available to members of the Law Society of Manitoba behind the Member’s Portal. For help accessing resources behind the portal visit our guide Accessing Library Resources behind the Member’s Portal.

Navigating dèsLibris

When opening dèsLibris from the Member's Portal you will land on the home screen

To access the Irwin Law collection we have to filter through the content.

To filter what we see, select the green Filters/Facets drop down menu.

This is the drop down menu – to access the Irwin Law collection filter by collection

The image shows a digital library interface with a sidebar titled "Filters/Facets". The sidebar contains several filter categories: Available for Reading, Refine your search, Collections, Jurisdictions, Publishers, Authors, Subjects, Subject Interest, Year of Publication, Date Added, Imprint, Series, Languages, Genres, Audience, and Prizes. The "Collections" filter is selected, and a dropdown menu is open, listing various collection options with checkboxes and item counts. The "Irwin Law Collection (259)" option is checked and highlighted with a red box.

College/higher education. Professional and scholarly Lawyers like to think they are good writers. Their non-lawyer readers are more likely to describe their writing as turgid, pedantic, Latin-filled, jargon-ridden, misspell, ungrammatical, and inelegant. Guthrie's Guide to Better Legal Writing won't solve all your problems, but it will help you make your prose clear, correct, and compelling. The focus is on communicating more effectively in e-mail, letters, memos, blog posts, client updates, and social media, but there...
